

TECC - Tactical Emergency Casualty Care

Provider Course

April 19-20, 2017
Panama City, Florida

This is the 16-hour NAEMT course for the EMT and Paramedic that covers topics designed to decrease preventable death in the tactical situation or similar scenario such as active shooter. The course is not just for tactical medics or tactical medical providers. It is for every street medic that may respond to active shooter, terrorist events, or a variety of similar events right out of daily headlines.

Students will develop situational awareness skills, learn to manage hemorrhage control, perform surgical airway control and needle decompression, learn strategies for treating wounded responders in threatening environments, and techniques for dragging and carrying victims to safety.

TECC focuses on the medicine during three distinct phases of care and provides guidelines for managing trauma in the civilian tactical or hazardous environment. You will train with TOMM, the Tactical Operations Medical Mannequin as used currently by US Special Operation Forces. Why simulate when you can actually perform needle decompression, surgical airways, and more.
